Market review

The Australian equities market rose during the month. In a better-than-expected reporting season, companies delivered solid earnings and dividend beats, with fewer negative outlooks than usual.

The S&P/ASX 200 Accumulation Index returned +1.5% for the month, taking its 12-month return to +4.4%. The broader S&P/ASX 300 Accumulation Index returned +1.6%, whilst globally, the MSCI World Index delivered +2.4% for the month.

Materials (+12.2%) was the largest contributor, on commodity price and gold strength driven by BHP Group (BHP, +9.8%), Evolution Mining (EVN, +32.0%), Northern Star Resources (NST, +17.8%) and PLS Group (PLS, +30.1%).

Health Care (+18.8%) also contributed strongly with earnings coming in 3% ahead of expectations in August, a relief to investors given successive sector earnings downgrades in prior reporting seasons. Performance was driven mainly by CSL (CSL, +39.4%) while ResMed (RMD, +11.2%) and Ramsay Health Care (RHC, +15.7%) also rose.

Energy (+3.9%) added to performance, supported by Whitehaven Coal (WHC, +22.5%) and Santos (STO, +5.9%).

Information Technology (+6.3%) was higher, led by Xero (XRO, +18.4%), WiseTech Global (WTC, +11.2%) and Codan (CDA, +17.2%), partially offset by Life360 (360, -21.0%).

Financials (-5.4%) was the largest detractor, driven by Commonwealth Bank of Australia (CBA, -8.4%), Westpac Banking Corporation (WBC, -8.8%), National Australia Bank (NAB, -6.5%) and QBE Insurance (QBE, -8.6%). Banks continued to soften following a sudden shift in the credit growth outlook following the proposed tax changes in the federal budget.

Consumer Discretionary (-7.9%) was weaker, weighed by subdued consumer sentiment driven by interest rate rises and persistent inflationary pressures. Wesfarmers (WES, -11.1%), JB Hi-Fi (JBH, -16.8%), Aristocrat Leisure (ALL, -5.0%) and Lottery Corporation (TLC, -9.3%) all declined.

Real Estate (-6.6%) detracted, driven by Goodman Group (GMG, -6.9%), Charter Hall Group (CHC, -17.2%) and Scentre Group (SCG, -6.2%).

Industrials (-1.5%) was lower, led by Downer EDI (DOW, -15.8%), Qantas Airways (QAN, -5.3%), Aurizon Holdings (AZJ, -10.1%) and SGH (SGH, -10.5%)

Portfolio review

Key Contributors

Wesfarmers (WES, underweight) – the diversified conglomerate underperformed during the period after reporting an in-line result. However, the company's core retail offers (Bunnings/Kmart) remain exposed to a tightening consumer backdrop, with outsized exposure to housing turnover and interest rates. With the company still trading on a premium FY27 P/E multiple of 28.3-times vs 23.9-times the 10-year average, and a modest 3.1% dividend yield, expectations remain relatively high for the stock.

National Australia Bank (NAB, underweight) – the Australian bank underperformed during the month following an underwhelming third quarter update which showed declining NIM, stubbornly high expense growth and normalised bad debts. The outlook for the banking sector has deteriorated rapidly post the May budget and we continue to believe that the elevated valuations of Australian banks are not supported by the low growth outlook for the sector.

Capstone Copper (CSC, overweight) – the copper producer outperformed during August as copper prices increased by 4% to close at US$6.55/lb on continued strong demand led by increased EV and data centre activity. We maintain a positive view on CSC due to its pure-play leverage to attractive copper markets coupled with the potential to nearly double production by decade end.

Key Detractors

Westpac Banking Corporation (WBC, overweight) – the major bank underperformed following the pre-release of its third quarter results. Whilst earnings for the quarter were broadly in line with 2H26 run rate expectations, WBC's outlook commentary was particularly cautious highlighting net interest margin pressure on both the asset and liability sides of the balance sheet and seasonally higher expenses in the fourth quarter.

CSL (CSL, underweight) – the ASX's largest diversified biotech company performed strongly over the month, up 39.4% following the release of the company's FY26 result. While the result was broadly in-line with consensus expectations at the group level, investors were encouraged by the core blood plasma business, Behring, which reported sales 2% ahead of expectations, after a series of downgrades in prior reporting periods. The strong share price reflects a sense of relief with FY27 guidance modestly ahead (LSD %) and the depressed earnings multiple. CSL subsequently closed the month trading on 19.8-times NTM PER and 13.8-times NTM EV/EBITDA.

JB Hi-Fi (JBH, overweight) – the consumer electronics retailer underperformed over the period, reflecting weaker July trading, supply disruptions and inflation-linked demand. This is expected to weigh on FY27 sales, placing margins at risk amid elevated promotional activity and cost pressures. The business otherwise reported reasonable underlying performance from its core JB Hi-Fi Australia business offset by a relatively weaker contribution from its housing-linked exposures (The Good Guys and E&S).

Market outlook

August was more constructive for growth assets, but leadership rotated sharply. The S&P/ASX 200 Index added 1.5%, briefly trading near record highs during reporting season, while small-cap Australian equities rebounded 5.2% as breadth improved and investors looked beyond banks and resources. The move was not uniformly risk-on: Australian listed property fell 7.0% as higher long-end bond yields again weighed on duration-sensitive valuations.

Sector performance reflected the push and pull between stronger risk appetite and higher discount rates. Small caps were the standout domestic equity signal, suggesting some recovery in confidence after sustained underperformance. By contrast, REITs remained under pressure from rising global sovereign yields and concerns that rate-sensitive cash flows would struggle to re-rate while central banks retained tightening biases. Gold was the clearest winner, surging 9.7% as geopolitical risks, fiscal concerns and renewed currency-debasement fears lifted demand for hard assets.

Offshore markets were mixed for Australian investors. Global equities benefited from resilient activity and AI-related investment themes, but Australian-dollar returns were diluted by a firmer currency. Bond markets offered little diversification: long-dated yields rose across Europe, the United Kingdom and Japan as investors demanded more compensation for fiscal risk and persistent inflation. Equities could still rise, but the cost of capital remained the dominant macro constraint.

Commodities reinforced the inflation-risk theme. Oil prices firmed on persistent Middle East tensions and supply concerns, while gold's rally signalled unease about geopolitics and the credibility of fiscal-monetary settings. Commodity strength helped energy-linked exposures but complicated the macro narrative: growth indicators were softening, yet external price shocks meant central banks could not confidently declare inflation risks had passed.

In the United States, there was no meeting scheduled for the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) in August however the policy signal strengthened. The July FOMC decision to hold at 3.50%–3.75% already carried a hawkish message, with three dissents in favour of a hike. Chair Kevin Warsh's Jackson Hole speech reinforced that bias, arguing inflation had not yet shown a meaningful improvement in underlying trends and noting that the Federal Reserve (Fed) would have "work to do" if inflation did not move clearly toward 2%. Markets lifted near-term hike probabilities as a result and we do expect that the Fed will hike at the September meeting.

Locally, the Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) held the cash rate unchanged at 4.35% at its August meeting. The Board judged policy to be somewhat restrictive and acknowledged softer consumer spending, housing and labour market conditions. However, it also stressed that inflation remained too high, and noted that July inflation data showed a further buildup of supply-side pressures.

With virtually all major central banks poised to lift rates, the Australian inflation data now makes it likely the RBA will deliver one further hike in September. The hike will likely be framed around inflation momentum, weak productivity and growth still near the Bank's estimate of potential. The RBA will probably keep optionality open, but we expect this to be the final hike as, by year-end, growth should be clearly below potential and the unemployment uptrend more ominous. Late-cycle hikes are always risky; hiking into slowing growth, falling asset prices and rising unemployment is unprecedented in the inflation-targeting era. As a consequence, expect Australia's economic growth to slow below 1% into early 2027 and for the RBA to commence its easing cycle by mid-2027.

We are most overweight stocks within the Materials, Communication Services and Utilities sectors, and are underweight Financials, Real Estate and Consumer Discretionary.
